(e) whether Government have intimated the Members of Parliament that Government are of the view to maintain statusquo regarding reservations; and

(f) if so, what are the details thereof ?

THE MINISTER OF WELFARE (SHRI SITARAM KESRI) : (a) and (b) Based on the recommendation of the Mandal Commission, Government reserved 27% of the vacancies in civil services and posts under the Govt, of India in favour of Socially & Educationally Backward Classes (SEBCs) vile OM of 13-8-1990 issues by the Deptt, of Pers. & Training.

The present Govt., after consultation with the political parties, issued an OM on 25-9-91, modifying the contents of the earlier OM of 13-8-90 in accordance with its election promises. The reservation quota of 27% for the SEBCs was, however, kept unaltered.

A 9-judge Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court which heard a bunch of writ petitions entitled Indira Sawhney & Others Vs Union of India & Ors. challenging the constitutional validity of the two office Memoranda, upheld the constitutional validity of reservation in Govt. Jobs for the OBCs subject to the exclusion on socially advanced persons/sections (Creamy Layer) from the benefits of reservation.

A revised OM in the light of directions of the Supreme Court was accordingly issued on 8-9-1993 which takes effected from the date of its issue.

(c) As on the date of the Supreme Court Judgement, only 14 States namely Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Goa, Gujarat, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Tamil Nadu and U. P. had notifitd lists of OBCs for the purpose of reservation in State Government services. Accordingly, those of the State Governments which did not notify lists of OBCs, were requested by the Ministry of Welfare to notify the lists of OBCs so that the OBCs population in those states are not deprived of the benefits of reservation,

The States of Rajasthan and Orissa have notified the lists of OBCs on September 1 and September 22, 1993 respectively. Sikkim has also identified the OBCs. The State Govts, of Nagaland & Arunachal Pradesh have intimated that they have no OBCs population, the matter is being pursued with the other State Governments.

(d) Most of the Election Manifestos of political parties for the General Election, 1991 contained a promise regarding implementation of Mandal Commission's recommendations regarding reservation for the backward classes. It is, therefore, pre-samed that the recommendation by and large had the support of the majority of people.

(e) and (f) In regard to the provision of reservation in promotions for Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes, the Welfare Minister made a statement in the House on 23rd December, 1992 and assured that there would be no immediate disturbance of the present dispensation regarding promotions for SCs/STs. The Department of Personnel & Training have issued instructions on 19th August, 1993 to all the Ministries/Departments to ensure that the existing provisions of reservation for SCs/STs in the matter of promotion are implemented without fail.
